Degrees Conferred Before a Distinguished Audience.

The Eighty-fourth Annual Commencement of the Time-Honored Institution a Memorable Occasion -Diplomas Granted Amid Applause

The eighty-fourth annual commence ment of Georgetown College was held yesterday in Gaston Hall of that institution. The affair was an unusually brilliant one and was attended by many The roomy amphitheatre was a mass of flowers, plants, and flags. Standing room was unobtainable before the exercises began at 10 o'clock, and the galieries and began at 10 o'clock, and the galieries and position, William H. Byrnes, Louisiana.

aisles were packed with a fashionable throng.

Forty-three young men were honored by degrees conferred at the hands of the Rev. J. D. Whitney, S. J., the rector of the university. The honorary degree of doctor of laws was conferred upon two persons. Four students received the degree of doctor of philosophy. Ten others received the degree of master of arts and twenty-nine were made happy with the cassock of bachelor of arts. A number twenty-nine were made happy with the cassock of bachelor of arts. A number of splendid orations were delivered by the graduates, and the applause in the hall was almost continuous. It was a proud day for the followers of the Blue and Grey, and was one of the most notable occasions in the history of the time honored institution.

The platform was occupied by the students receiving degrees, the faculty of the university, and a large number of prom-university, and a large number of prominent people, together with many of the local clergy. The Marine Band, under Prof. Santelmann, discoursed sweet music between the orations. Every number on the programme was enthusiastically applauded and the university year closed in a grand blaze of glory and harmony.

The bachelors' oration was delivered by Edward Joseph Smith, of Tennessee, who chose as his theme, "Forefathers' Day." The masters' oration was delivered by A. H. Twibill, A. B., of Pennsylvania, who spoke on "The Foundation of Psy-

The dectors' oration was delivered by Edward Loughborough Keyes, jr., M. D.,

The Rev. J. D. Whitney, rector, then conferred the degrees upon the graduates. The Rev. Father Fagan, the vice rector, conferred upon the Very Rev. William Louis O'Hara the honorary degree of doctor of laws. Rev. Dr. O'Hara is President of Mount St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg, Md. The honorary degree of doctor of laws was also conferred upon Anthony A. Hirst, A. M., of the class of 1871.

In conferring the honorary degrees, the Rev. Father Hagan said:

a younger sister and has followed her growth with loving interest, rejoicing with her in good fortune and mourning with her in her hours of trial. On each suc-cessive President of Mount St. Mary's she has conferred the highest distinction in her rift. She has made it a point of R. Frank Richards, of this city, and Mr. Morris Smith, of Philadelphia, acted as best man. Miss Bessie Johnson, girlishly the Mountain and of her recognition of the property of the Mountain and of her recognition of the property of the Mountain and the property of the property o of letters in the United States. This ven-crable custom would be a sufficient rea-son for honoring the President of Mount Mary's here today, but apart from the le of distinction which his position itle of distinction which his position rives Father O'Hara, his own conspicu-ous gifts, as a priest and as a man of culture, the years which he has so zealously and ungrudgingly devoted as a eacher and as an administrator, to the dvancement of Catholic higher education, the singular success that has marked his ule since the day, when, with the unani-nous approval of pupils and alumni, the lirectors of Mount St. Mary's chose him to be its president—all these would be sufficient of themselves to entitle him to any academic distinction Georgetown

"Moved, therefore, by these considera-tions, and in obedience to a time-honored custom, the president and directors of Georgetown University have conferred and do confer on the Very Rev. William Louis O'Hara, Fresident of Mount St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg, the honor-ary degree of doctor of laws. "Georgetown also honors today one of her own sons, Anthony Antommarchi Hirst, A. M., of Philadelphia, Pa. His title to distinction and honor at her hands is based, not only on his personal integrity, his loyalty as a man, as a cit-teen and as an alumnus, but on his suc-cess in his chosen underston of the law cess in his chosen profession of the law, and more particularly on his eminence in his special line of work, probate practice, in which he has won special distinction, a distinction all the more to be prized and recognized for the fact that it s been conceded to him not so much has been conceded to him not so much by the topular voice as by the suffrages of his associates at the bar.

truly the home of religious education and its graduates are better fitted to take up the problems of life than those of any other college in my knowledge.

"You go out to become members of the nation, citizens of the country, and workers in the world. May you all put the test to your education and see if the Christian education is a good one and a sufficient one. The aim is to place at the end of the road of life the irfinite good which we all strive after. Besides a training in the classics and in the studies which will materially benefit you in the world, you have also the higher education and ou have also the higher education and hould be better men. I hold that the graduates of such a school as this can be better citizens of such a country as this because of their ducation. He is the best man who sees the hand of God in society. What we call patriotism and love of country is but the voice of God. It is divine and an be entrusted to such men as graduate from a religious university. om a religious university.

"Christianity enters into every profes-ion. We all need it. It is needed in medicine, in law, and in letters. Let cour lives be patterned after your alma mater and all will be well." titute people who are really the charges of the various States of the Union and has begun an investigation which will, ments which have been in progress in it is believed, so reduce the number of claimants upon the charity of the Dis trict as to leave an annual surplus in place of a deficit, as heretofore. The lists are being gone over and in all cases where nid is applied for, the applicants, if natives of any State or Territory, will be sent to their homes and the local authorities made to care for them. The same plan is being worked in connection with the Government Hospital for the Insane. The sum of $149,000 is annually appropriated for the care of patients there. The District has to pay a good share of this sum and when the natives of the States have been weeded out and sent to their home authorities, it is thought that the burden upon local taxpayers will be materially lessened. Probably the most peculiar complaint ever received at the Treasury Department was that which came in the mail a few days ago addressed to the Lighthouse Board and signed by thirty of the very wealthy residents of Long Island. The complaint is that owing to the revolving flashlights which are operated on the coast of the island sleep is interfered with, and it is asked that the objectionable lights be removed and others substituted. The letter sets forth the fact that the alternate flashes light up the sleeping apartments in the homes of the complainants and make it a very difficult matter to secure a good night's rest. The com-plaint will be taken up by the Lighthouse Board in a short time and it is believed that some arrangement can be made to have the objection removed, although the Government has not the slightest idea of shandoning any of its plans for the safeabandoning any of its plans for the safety of mariners.

Capt, Horace Maynard Reeve, United States Army, who has just returned from a two years' sojourn in the Philippine as aide to Brigadier General Bates, and who is now at his home in this city, has the unique distinction of being the only West Point cadet who ever had a picture in his room at the Military Academy. The picture hung in Cadet Reeve's room from shortly after his admission until he left it several years later, and while the room was given the usual strict inspec tion, the "invisible picture" was never discovered by the officials,

The picture was a clever etching of a young cadet waltzing with a handsome girl, and the cadets in Reeve's class spent much time gazing in rapture at the only picture of a girl in the entire building Reeve was offered fabulous sums (in cadet money) for the prize, but always refused to sell or to have the picture reproduced. The manner in which the eye of the inspecting officer was eluded was told by Reeve after his graduation from the institution. He had a small mirror in his room, like every other cadet, and, having removed the wooden back from this, he etched the alluring picture in the quicksilver. He then replaced the back, and the mirror looked innocen-enough. Some of the cadets were finally wise enough to see the picture, and the good news was sprend, but with "West Point honor" not a word reached the of-ficials. Col. Felix A. Reeve, Assistant Solicitor of the Treasury Department, has the mirror in his possession now and is Captain Reeve was later made in-dructor in drawing at the Military Acadmy, and during his service in the Phil emy, and during his settle in the Fini-ippines has written and illustrated many magazine articles. He learned to draw in the local public schools, while his mili-tary career began as a member of Com-pany B, Washington High School Cadets.

The forty-six teachers who graduate from the local Normal School on Tuesda need not await openings in the education al institutions in this city if they desir to begin immediately on the work of training others. The War Department is trying to raise a corps of 500 school teach ers to go to the Philippines between now and the middle of July, and thus far only 56 have been obtained. It looks as though he young Filipino would have to remain gnorant for a time unless some of the members of the graduating classes of the various normal schools throughout the ountry come to the rescue. It is claimed by the officials that this is a splendid opportunity for young teachers anxious to make a mark, as the school system in the Philippines is in its infancy and there ittee of the House, to be appointed Speaker when the House is organ-ext December.

WOODWARD & LOTHROP.

LIVE TOPICS ABOUT TOWN.

President Woodward, of the District Board of Charities, has determined that Washington is supporting too many des-

White discussing the many commencethis city and in the country during the past few weeks, Dr. W. T. Harris, Com missioner of Education, yesterday remarked that the present terms of college courses are too long and could be shortened to advantage. "I have given this matter some study lately," said he, "and I find that under the present system the young man is kept in school and at his books so long that he is less apt in meeting the practical things which he is obliged to face in applying his education. I carnestly advocate that the college term be shortened to three years and that the preparatory terms be also greatly shortened. I think we will have better results."

Despite the thousands of new drinks which have been concocted by the man behind the soda water fountain in this he makes this summer patented. This will, no doubt, bring about retaliation. nd it is expected that the other druggists fill follow suit. The new drink, the first to be patented, is called "crushed violets" and is simply a syrup which, when mixed with soda, tastes something like the popular conception of what the flavor of violets ought to be. It is not professed that real violets are crushed and made into a syrup, but the drink is having a run and will, no doubt, be followed by many other fad drinks, all of which will be patented.
